EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Elections loom ahead, and we witness the emergence of liars, dishonest people and imposters all around us. Political discourses are saturated with misinformation, with social media adding fuel to fire. Have we sunk so low that only political heavyweights are seen as patriots? Even so, we will do well to remember what Gandhiji said: Politics without principles is a social sin. Unscrupulous and dishonest candidates prevail, as 'winnability' reigns supreme. Political ideologies and principles are disregarded, and elections are marred by the indiscriminate spread of the poison of money, communalism and casteism. Self-praise overshadows genuine leadership at all levels.

It is not merely about which party wins or loses; it is about whether we, the voters — the people of this country — will triumph or falter. Power-seekers exploit the fault lines in society and divide the people along religion, caste, or creed. If the people prevail and refuse these divisions, these false and dishonest forces will be eradicated.

Half a century ago, Kannada poet, Jnanpith awardee Kuvempu, in his convocation address at the Bangalore University, emphasised the need to purify our flawed election system, quoting the American President Lyndon Johnson: 'Politics is the last resort of a scoundrel'. It is not about political parties but about the country. There is a need to fight for our democracy and vote out leaders who try to suppress the common man with falsehoods and money. Dharma is the removal of wrong doers. No democracy can survive and thrive if its citizens are not free from falsehood and power manipulation. It is the responsibility of citizens to choose their leaders wisely. This is our current challenge. Let us not miss the opportunity and get derailed amidst all the misinformation. Let's not lose focus on what truly matters.

Gandhiji advocated non-cooperation as a tool against oppression. Let's defeat wrongdoing through non-cooperation, by refusing to vote for the wrong candidates. Doing what's right today ensures a better tomorrow.

Bird 'confuses' Cops by mimicking siren

Oxfordshire: Police officers were left "confused" by a bird when it convincingly mimicked the sound of the sirens on their cars. Thames Valley Police said staff initially thought their vehicles had developed a fault after hearing the noise at a roads policing base in Bicester.

A video filmed at the site in Oxfordshire and posted on social media shows the bird chirping in a tree then replicating the sound of a two-tone siren. The force said that the copycat call was "100% real and not a late April Fools joke" and added that officers were left "a little confused".

Social media users speculated that the bird could be a starling, which are known for their ability to mimic man-made noises.

Law firm gets wrong couple divorced

London: The simple mistake of a law firm clerk accidentally choosing the wrong file from a dropdown menu on an online portal led to the irrevocable divorce of the wrong couple.

A senior judge recently refused to overturn the divorce of a couple who had accidentally been chosen from a drop-down menu by solicitors at leading London law firm Vardags, headed by Ayesha Vardag. The couple, referred to as Mr and Mrs Williams by the Court, had been married for 21 years until 2023 when they separated. The couple was still in the process of arranging financial agreements for their separation when a Vardags clerk accidentally selected them for a final divorce order on an online portal, which saw them legally divorced in just 21 minutes. All attempts to have the error overturned by the judge were denied because the public trust in a truly final divorce order was more important.

Prevention of cholera, epidemic diseases

MCC issues guidelines to hotels, eateries, public

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (KS)- To curb the spread of cholera and other epidemic diseases this summer, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner has issued comprehensive guidelines for hotel and bakery owners, roadside vendors, sellers of beverages and ice-cream within MCC limits, as well as the general public.

These guidelines aim to align with government directives and mitigate the risk of epidemic transmission.

Outlined in the guidelines are several key measures:

Maintaining cleanliness: Emphasis is placed on keeping the surroundings of public taps and drinking water storage areas clean to ensure hygienic conditions.

Safe water consumption:

It is recommended to consume boiled and cooled water or opt for drinking water from RO plants to minimise the risk of water-borne diseases.

Hygienic practices: Hoteliers are instructed to provide hot water to customers, while individuals are advised to be cautious when purchasing beverages like juice and soda from roadside vendors. Additionally, proper hand hygiene, including washing hands with soap before consuming food, is encouraged.

Food safety standards: Hotels, bakeries, and eateries are required to serve hot food to customers and ensure that staff members wear appropriate protective gears such as hand gloves, head caps, face masks and aprons. Openly sold food items on roadsides, including cut fruits, should be avoided to prevent contamination.

Personal hydration and food protection: Individuals are advised to carry water bottles from home and cover ready-to-eat food items to deter flies and other insects from contaminating the food.

By adhering to these guidelines, both vendors and the public can play a vital role in preventing the spread of epidemic diseases and safeguarding public health in Mysuru.

Woman leaves son in lodge and flees

Cops trace mother within few hours

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (SPN&KS)- Lashkar Police have traced a woman, who had fled after abandoning her 10-year-old son at a lodge in city.

The woman, who left her son behind and fled from the lodge is Bhargavi, a native of Tumakuru. She had taken a room at a city lodge two days ago.

Bhargavi had told the lodge Manager Arun Kumar on Monday night that she would vacate the room on Tuesday morning, but she left the lodge at about 3 am on Tuesday, without informing the staff and had left her son behind in the room.

When Arun Kumar checked the room of Bhargavi on Tuesday morning, he found only her son in the room.

Arun Kumar then checked the CCTV footage and found Bhargavi walking out of the lodge at 3 am without her son and immediately handed over the boy to Lashkar Police besides lodging a complaint against Bhargavi.

Based on the complaint from Arun Kumar, Lashkar Police, who swung into action, traced Bhargavi in the afternoon.

On questioning her, Bhargavi is said to have told the Police that she is a divorcee and was in relationship with a youth in Mysuru.

She is also said to have told the Cops that she had gone to the youth's house on Tuesday morning and had a fight with him.

Following the interrogation, the Police informed Bhargavi's parents and sent the boy to a care centre in city.

Bhargavi was sent home after she was served with a notice to appear for an inquiry.

Voting awareness hits the sky

CESC releases helium balloons with messages on compulsory voting at 12 places; jatha taken out on main thoroughfares of city

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (MK&BS)- Under the aegis of District Systematic Voters' Education and Electoral Participation (SVEEP) Committee and District Administration, Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) Limited launched an innovative campaign to create awareness on the importance of voting in the elections to Lok Sabha-2024 scheduled to be held in this part of the State in the first phase on Apr. 26.

Two big-size balloons, inflated with helium and printed with messages in Kannada reading 'My Vote My Right' and 'My Vote Is Not For Sale' were released into the sky, during voting awareness campaign organised at the premises of Kote Anjaneyaswamy temple, Mysore Palace North Gate last evening.

The CESC Officers and staff holding electric lamps and placards with slogan 'My Vote is Compulsory for the sake of Constitution', also took out a mammoth jatha that was flagged off by Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, who is also the District Electoral Officer after administering the oath on compulsory voting to the gathering.

The jatha passéd through Albert Victor road, K.R. Circle, Sayyaji Rao Road, Government Ayurveda Hospital Circle, Irwin road, SBI Circle, Ashoka Road and Doddagadiyara (Silver Jubilee Clock Tower) junction before culminating at the launch point.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Rajendra said "The voter slips containing the related information is being distributed to voters, with the sole intention to increase the percentage of voting and prompt the voters to exercise their franchise without fail. By scanning the QR code printed on the back of voter slip, the voters can obtain information related to polling booths. The Booth Level Officers (BLO) are engaged in delivering the voter slip to the doorstep of every house."

> For the first time, CESC has taken up an innovative initiative to create awareness on voting. The helium balloons with messages on voting have been launched into the sky at 12 prominent places including the crowded places across the city, which will attract attention of the people round-the-clock. They will be swaying in the sky till the elections are over. Our main intention is to create a sense of voting without fail among the people, propelling Mysuru district towards recording a good voter turnout ever.
> —G. Sheela, Managing Director, CESC

Dr. Rajendra also appealed CESC employees to share the task of reaching voter slips to every households, to fulfil the purpose of increasing the percentage of voting.

Film actor Gym Ravi said "Voting is like a festival and everybody should take part in the same with morality. Like how we maintain fitness of the body through daily work out, we should compulsorily vote to elect a better leader for the development of the country. Of late, there has been a growing tendency among majority of the people to consider the day of voting as a holiday, which is wrong. Voting is the right of all and everybody should exercise their franchise without fail, ignoring the attempts to lure them. Let's all strive to ensure cent percent voting by morally casting the vote."

City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh, Zilla Panchayat Chief Executive Officer K.M. Gayathri, who is also the Chairperson of District SVEEP Committee, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner Dr. N.N. Madhu, Director (Technical) CESC K.V. Umesh Chandra, Chief Engineers Mahadeva Swamy and Prasanna, Superintending Engineer A.A. Sunil Kumar, Executive Engineers R. Poornachandra Tejaswi and S.B. Anitha and MCC Environmental Engineer S. Mythri and others were present.

Mysuru, Apr. 17 (VNS) - Former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy along with Mysuru-Kodagu BJP candidate Yaduveer Wadiyar, Hunsur MLA G.D. Harish Gowda and others took out a Road Show at Hunsur yesterday as part of the election campaign for the ensuing Lok Sabha polls.

MLA G.D. Harish Gowda said that it was important for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's return to power for the welfare of the State and country and added that people must support Yaduveer Wadiyar of the Royal Family which had contributed for the welfare and development of the State. Former MLAs S.A. Ramadas and K. Mahadev, District BJP President L.R. Mahadevaswamy and others took part in the Road Show at Hunsur.

Acute water scarcity in Vijayanagar 4th Stage

Sir,

Access to water is a fundamental necessity for residents, and it is concerning to hear about water scarcity issue in Vijayanagar 4th Stage. This problem persists not only during summer months but throughout the year due to the absence of a dedicated water supply authority for this area.

Despite attempts to seek assistance from various authorities, including Hootagalli CMC and Bogadi Town Panchayat, it seems Vijayanagar 4th Stage near Sankalp Temple Trees falls under MUDA jurisdiction.

However, efforts to contact the numbers listed on the MUDA website have been futile, with the IVR system indicating that the numbers do not exist. Additionally, attempts to reach the water operator, Krishna, have been unsuccessful as his phone is consistently switched off.

The current water supply arrangement, with water being provided only once a week and the sump not being adequately filled, is insufficient to meet the needs of residents. This situation is causing significant inconvenience and hardship for tenants and property owners alike.

I urge the government to take immediate action to address this critical issue by ensuring that water is supplied daily. Furthermore, it is essential to allocate this area under a suitable authority to facilitate effective management of water-related challenges. Residents deserve sufficient water to meet their daily needs and steps must be taken to address this without delay.

Speaking to SOM Bhanu Prakash said: "I had appeared for UPSC exam to better my previous performance, but in vain. Had I got a better ranking this time, I could have quit IPS. However, I will continue with IPS as I couldn't achieve the aim despite putting in more efforts unlike previous exam. However, I won't feel disappointed."

"In all likelihood I will appear for the exam again, despite being in service, thus continuing my efforts to achieve the target. What ticks one especially in this exam is constant studies by maintaining the consistency. By doing so, anybody can crack UPSC exam," said Bhanu Prakash in his advice to civil services aspirants.

Sooraj, who hails from Virajpet in Kodagu district, is the son of K.B. Lingaraj and Geetharaj couple, residents of Siddarthanagar in Mysuru city. Lingaraj is working as Superintendent at Customs Department and posted at GST Division here, while Geetharaj is a housewife.

Sooraj is currently working at Ministry of Home Affairs and posted at Kempegowda International Airport Limited, Devanahalli in Bengaluru. He is an alumnus of JSS Public School, Siddarthanagar, Mysuru and Sri Sathya Sai Loka Seva Trust Educational Institutions, Alike in Dakshina Kannada district and graduate in Computer Science Engineering from Sri Jayachamarajendra College of Engineering (SJCE), Mysuru.

Elated over tasting success in his third attempt at UPSC, Sooraj said: "I worked hard for consecutive three years and finally feel elated over the results. I first wrote the exam in 2021 and also appeared for the mains, while I failed in the prelims in the subsequent year of exam in 2022. Now, with the present ranking, I am confident that I can give another try at the exam, but will think about it later."

Following his engineering, Sooraj had landed a cushy job at a software company as business analyst, but the urge to crack civil services exam, forced him to quit the job. Apart from preparing for civil services, he appeared for the exams of Ministry of Home Affairs and also succeeded in securing a job.

In his advice to fellow aspirants, Sooraj said: "One who is serious in preparation, they should continue doing with it. It is like a marathon, not a sprint, but at the same time, it is imperative to be aware that there are lots of other opportunities too which are intellectually challenging like UPSC. One should also have a 'plan B' in mind."

Meghana, another topper from Mysuru who is presently settled in Bengaluru, hails from Bettadapura, Periyapatna taluk in the district. Her father Thandavamurthy is a businessman and mother Navaneetha, a homemaker. She holds MA in English and has so far appeared in six UPSC exam and has succeeded thrice including the latest 2023 exam. While she finished with 464th rank in 2020 and got into Indian Information Service (IIS), she bettered her performance by securing 425th rank in 2022 and now she has got 721st rank, but has continued her stint in IIS.

Meghana told SOM, "For now I don't have any plans about writing civil services exam again, but will think about it later. I was studying for 10 to 12 hours daily and for extra hours especially when the exam date was closer. Apart from acquiring knowledge, patience counts more along with confidence while preparing for UPSC. If one has these qualities, they can excel in any exam."

Lekhan, who has finally succeeded in his fourth attempt, is a native of Tippalapura in Hunsur taluk of the district. He is a graduate in Civil Engineering from Sri Jayachamarajendra College of Engineering (SJCE). His father L. Mahadev is a High School Head Master and mother Shylaja is a housewife.

Lekhan said, "I didn't attend any coaching institute but I prepared on my own, poring over the study materials prepared by myself. I had taken Kannada as optional. I believed in myself to taste the success, defying the myth that success is guaranteed only through honing the skills under the guidance of coaching institutes."

Thejaswini, who was a techie in Bengaluru, quit her job in 2020, to pursue her UPSC dream. She holds a Master in Computer Applications (MCA) degree from National Institute of Engineering (NIE), Mysuru and her efforts to make it into civil services have borne fruits in her fourth attempt.

She is the daughter of late Nanjappa, who was a farmer and Sundaramma, a housewife, from Hunsur taluk in the district. She is married to Yogesh of Alanahalli, Hampapura hobli, H.D. Kote taluk in the district, where she is currently living.

Thejaswini said, "I underwent training for seven months from December 2020 in Bengaluru for the exam and later started preparing on my own. I had devoted 12 to 14 hours per day for studies and had taken Kannada literature as optional."

One should have a zeal to achieve success and prepare for the exam. Besides, one should involve self with a sense of devotion and success is guaranteed on the back of efforts. One should not feel low and refrain from making repeat attempts even if they fail to achieve in first or second attempt. They should keep on attempting, said Thejaswini in her advice to other aspirants.

Ramanavami at Ayodhya: Surya Tilak to Balak Ram

Shamiyanas were erected at various places where special pujas were offered to the portrait of Lord Ram before the distribution of prasadam. The festival also comes as a big relief to people as they get to beat the heat consuming buttermilk and 'panaka'.

This year's Ramanavami is special in Ayodhya, the birth place of Lord Ram, as it is the first time that grand celebrations are being held after the consecration of Balak Ram idol on Jan. 22 this year. Lakhs of devotees from across the country thronged the temple to seek the blessings of the deity.

Surya Tilak to Balak Ram

Devotees present at Ayodhya witnessed the unique event as a ray of sunlight, known as 'Surya Tilak' anointed the forehead of the deity between 12 noon and 1 pm, the birth time of Lord Rama.

A 5.8 centimetre long beam of light hit the forehead of Balak Ram's idol through a specially designed instrument.

A team of 10 Indian scientists were commissioned by Shri Ram Janmabhoomi Teerth Kshetra Trust who devised a sophisticated apparatus consisting of mirrors and lenses, called as 'Surya Tilak Mechanism'.

Sri Ramanavami Music Fest by Ramaseva Mandali, Mysore North

Precision of delivery

Vid. Saketharaman presenting a vocal concert at Sri Prasanna Parvati Kalyana Mantapa, V.V. Mohalla, Mysuru, on the fourth day of its 30th Sri Ramanavami Music Festival on Apr. 13. He is accompanied by Dr. Nishanth Chandra on violin, Vid. Arjun Kumar on mridanga and Vid. G.S. Ramanujam on ghata.

Vid. Saketharaman from Chennai performed for Sri Ramaseva Mandali Charitable Trust, Mysore North, on the fourth day of its 30th Sri Ramanavami Music Festival at Sri Prasanna Parvati Kalyana Mantapa, V.V. Mohalla, Mysuru. He was accompanied on violin by Dr. Nishanth Chandra, on mridanga by Vid. Arjun Kumar and on ghata by Vid. G.S. Ramanaujam.

Vid. Saketharaman manages both his profession as a software engineer and his passion music extraordinarily well, doing justice to both. With his stamp of Lalgudi bani, he won the audience in each one of the compositions that he presented.

All compositions chosen for the concert were on Lord Rama. 'Kodandaramam anisham' by Deekshitar in a rare raga kokilapriya preceded by a bhava-laden ragalapana was extremely pleasant. Abheri ragalapana was presented step by step in an unhurried manner followed by another surprise 'Rama nama payasake Krishnanama sakkare' by Purandaradasaru was highly enjoyed by both the artistes and the listeners.

'Rama Rama Rama enniro' by Purandaradasaru in Vasanta was presented in a brisk manner in contrast with the previous kriti. Mohana was the highlight of the evening. The ragalapana was good with plenty of brigas but in the ragalapana, Mohana kalyani peeped in a couple of times. 'Ra Ra Rajeevalochana Rama' by Mysore Vasudevachar set to Adi tala in Vilamba Gati brought smile on the faces of the audience. The niraval came surprisingly at the pallavi line, which was meaningful and never heard before. The post-tani part included a shloka 'Mata Ramo matpita Ramabhadrah' followed by Rama nama bhajisidavage unte bhavada bandhana' by Gopala Dasaru rose to the occasion. But the shloka in Sanskrit suffered sahitya.

Vid. Saketharaman should concentrate more on sahitya while choosing Sanskrit shlokas. This and the next composition 'Ramanai bhajittal' in Maand filled the hall with devotion. He concluded the concert with a Lalgudi Tillana in Brindavani. Dr. Nishanth's playing was equally excellent throughout and won applause frequently. The hold on his violin is amazing and praiseworthy. Vid. Arjun's understanding of the vocalist was noteworthy. Vid. Ramanujam's playing was brilliant, both as a support and in taniyavartanam.

WORD OF THE DAY

Brusque

Pronunciation: BRUSK (Adjective)
Meaning: A person may be described as brusque when they are talking or behaving in a very direct, brief, and unfriendly way. Brusque can also describe speech that is noticeably short and abrupt.
Origin: If you've ever felt swept aside by someone with a brusque manner, that makes a certain amount of etymological sense. Brusque comes ultimately from bruscus, the Medieval Latin name for butcher's broom, a shrub whose bristly, leaf-like twigs have long been used for making brooms.
Bruscus was modified to the adjective brusco in Italian, where it meant "sour" or "tart." French, in turn, changed brusco to brusque, and the word in that form entered English in the 1600s. English speakers initially applied brusque to tartness in wine, but the word soon came to describe a harsh and stiff manner, which is just what you might expect of a word bristling with associations to stiff, scratchy brooms.
Example: "Archaeologists look down on him because of his working-class background, and his brusque manner hasn't won him many friends. He doesn't argue with those he disagrees with; he just walks away." — Dan Lybarger, The Arkansas Democrat-Gazette, 19 Feb. 2021

THE ODD WORD

Bequeath

Leave (property) to a person or other beneficiary.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Beat a dead horse

Meaning: You use the term 'Beat a dead horse' to indicate that some action or ongoing argument is useless.
Origin: The origin of the expression 'Beat a dead horse' comes from the mid-19th century, when the practice of beating horses to make them go faster was often viewed as acceptable. To beat a dead horse would be pointless, as it wouldn't be able to go anywhere. An early written form of this popular phrase is found in an 1859 issue of the London paper Watchman and Wesleyan Advertiser: "It was notorious that Mr. Bright was dissatisfied with his winter reform campaign and rumour said that he had given up his effort with the exclamation that it was like flogging a dead horse."
Example: "He already told you no; don't beat a dead horse."

CRYPTOQUIP

The Cryptoquip is a substitution cipher in which one letter stands for another. If you think that X equals O, it will equal O throughout the puzzle. Single letters, short words and words using an apostrophe give you clues to locating vowels. Solution is by trial and error.
